What is the message of this movie?

This movie is an inspiring true story of Harold Abraham (Eric Liddell) and the team that brought England to one of the finest and greatest sport victories at the 1924 Olympic Games. Success brings honour to two athletes and their nation, but the honour at stake is personal honour ... and their challenge is the one from within, bringing all of us to reason about what kind of motivation brings people to glory.

This film is a masterpiece, invigorating and overwhelming our expectation for an impact that underlines the talents of two human beings who at the end are true and unique heroes. Is our struggle of life a challenge to win something or to become someone?

(Winner of 4 Academy Awards including Best Picture)
