What is the message of this movie?

Hannah's difficult birth brings us to step onto the stage and find out what is going on. After a failed abortion attempt, Hannah was adopted by loving parents. She embarks on an incredible journey with Jason, her older friend, in search of her real mother. As she searches to find out about her hidden past, she discovers her real mother who is not ready to accept her unknown future.

Hannah realizes that life has more to offer and in being able to forgive her mother, she is the real free winner of life. She follows this path of hope and forgiveness to demonstrate that a better way of living is always possible but also not too easy under the pressure of our own situations of life. Great movie with great message. (109 minutes)
